A black and white photograph showing two men in a laboratory or office setting. The man on the left, wearing glasses and a dark suit, is seated and writing on a document with a pen. The man on the right, older with white hair, is standing and leaning over the desk, looking at the document. He is also wearing a suit and a patterned tie. The background is dark and indistinct.

A black and white photograph of a group of about 15 people, including men, women, and children, gathered in a large, ornate room. They are dressed in late 19th-century attire. The room features high ceilings, decorative moldings, and a large chandelier. A table with a striped cloth is in the foreground, and a desk or writing table is on the right.
